This UITableView contains some data, from which a button will be created. When the button is clicked, it will be deleted. I have used NSUserDefaults in the first section, to update the original data with the newly created data. The problem is, I don't know how to reload the UITableView to show the updated data. I have used the following code in my button action: // Update the original data invention relates generally to a wireless communications system, and more particularly to the management of protocol layers with different states. Wireless communications devices and protocols are proliferating at an astounding rate. In addition to the widely used radio frequency technology, which uses radio waves and electromagnetic radiation to provide links, infrared technology is increasing in demand. In the case of infrared technology, the transmitted signal has an infrared frequency. A receiver of the infrared technology uses an infrared filter to detect the transmitted frequency. For personal area networks, which are generally known in the art, devices are constantly transmitting and receiving data at rates of between 776 bps and several Mbps. The number of protocols, standards, and/or interface specifications that have been published in this field continues to grow. At the same time, the number of interconnected systems continues to grow. As the number of devices grows, the need to manage the growth of the number of protocols and the
